Gentlemen: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your draft for amount of insurance I carried on my stock, fixtures, etc., which were destroyed by fire on the 12th instant.

In connection with this matter I wish to state that my property was originally insured with the Alexandria Home Fire Insurance Company, and the business of said company was afterwards purchased by the Westchester Fire Insurance Company of New York. This latter company was very prompt in the settlement of my claim, and the loss was fully paid, and to my entire satisfaction.

PRESIDENT FINLEY'S ADDRESS.

President W. W. Finley, of the Southern Railway, was the orator of the day at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg on the 17th instant, and in his address to the graduating class outlined at some length the industrial opportunities open to young men of the South.

Advocating a specialized education, he said that the call of the world today is for the man who has mastered the sum of human knowledge in some particular line. President Finley traced the agricultural development of the South as a parellel to its wonderful development in manufacturing, naming as the three chief agencies in building up a diversified system of southern agriculture: First the building up of manufacturing communities: second, the improvement of the transportation system, and third, the development of agricultural education.

Alluding indirectly to rate legislation, President Finley said:

"I believe that your study of the history of human institutions will convince you that the greatest and most widely diffused prosperity may be expected in those nations in which individual industy and enterprise have been given the widest scope, and in which the functions of government have been limited most nearly to the prevention of crime and the preservation of order.

"Fortunately, we have in the history of the world examples of almost every conceivable variety of governmental regulation affecting business enterprises. It is not necessary for us to embark on untried experiments. I believe that the history of the world teaches that the inter-relations of all human activities are so intimate that any policy which would tend unduly to restrict those engaged in any occupation which is not in itself immoral must inevitably react upon all the people. It is one of the fundamental laws of economics that capital tends to flow into those lines of employment assuring the largest and most certain returns. The object of every business is profit. It is of especial importance in our section that capital should be encouraged to flow into the business of transportation.

"The common view of the public interest in a railway is exclusively as a carrier. The importance of the purchasing power of the railways and of those employed by them as factors in the general prosperity of the country is often lost sight of. The railways are not only carriers, but are themselves large consumers of a vast variety of the products of the country.

"I brlieve that our system of government is the best that man has yet devised, and I have faith in the American people. Therefore, I believe that these problems, perplexing as they may be, will be so solved as to insure our advancement even to a higher plane of national prosperity and happiness than we have yet attained. Not the least of the advantages of Virginia is its relative proximity to large consuming centres and its favorable conditions for the development of water and rail transportation. With its ideal location, its vast variety and richness of natural resources, and inhabited by a people which produced a Patrick Henry and a Jefferson, a Washington and a Lee, the future of Virginia is assured."

CAPTURED BY A WOMAN.

W. W. Byers, a well-known mountain desperado, was captured yesterday in West Asheville, N. C. He was detected by Mrs. William Collins, a prominent society woman, robbing her premises. Mrs. Collins, after sending in a police call, armed herself with a double-barreled shotgun, and taking oyers completely off his guard, commanded him to surrender. For half an hour Mrs. Collins stood guard over Byers. He was disguised in woman's clothing, and entered Mrs. Collins' house in the guise of an old woman begging for alms. When Mrs. Collins' back was turned, he began appropriating jewelry, and, through a mirror, was detected in the act by the matron of the house. When it was found that it was the desperado Byers, extra men were deputized to effect the arrest, as it was believed there would be trouble. Mrs. Collins surprised the officers by declaring that after all she would not have carried out the threat to shoot him if he moved. "Why?" they asked. "Because," replied Mrs. Collins, "you see, the gun wasn't loaded."

WOMEN ON THE ISTHMUS.

In spite of the rule of the canal commission to bar women out of the service because the isthmus is no place for them, 205 have succeeded in finding a place upon the list of canal employees.

Women have been employed to teach in the schools, as they have been employed to nurse in the hospitals, on account of their natural qualifications for the work and because at the salaries paid it is easier to secure women with the requisite experience than men. Of the 25 women teachers now employed a majority are the wives or the daughters of male employes who were living in the Canal Zone prior to their appointment, and comparatively few women teachers have been brought from the United States. The first of the canal zone free public schools was opened in January, 1906.

In addition to the nurses and the teachers, 45 women are employed by the commission on a gold basis. Seventeen of these are rated as copyists, ten as coupons counters, four as clerks, two as postal clerks, two as dietists, two as laundresses, two as matrons, two as timekeepers; one as telegrapher, one as storekeeper, and one is employed on special service. The highest salary paid any woman in the service is $175 a month, and the lowest salary paid is $25 a month. The average salary of the women now in the service is $73.90 a month.

Women have not been generally employed in clerical position, because the commission cannot undertake, except at a disproportionate expense, to provide quarters for female employes. Almost without exception, the women who have secured appointments in the offices of the various departments are related to male employes occupying married quarters, who provide them a home.

BARRED FROM THE MAILS.

All publications having anarchistic tendencies will hereafter find it practically impossible to make use of the United States mails for their distribution. Postmaster General Meyer has issued an order directing postmasters to put into effect the amended section of the postal rules and regulations which bars the use of the mails to these publications.

Several months ago the postoffice department experienced some difficulty in construing the law so as to secure the suppression of La Questione Sociale, a newspaper published in Paterson, N. J. On the reccommendation of the postmaster general an amendment to the postal laws was included in the postoffice appropriation bill. This amendment provides that all matters of a character tending to "incite arson, murder or assassination" shall be included under the section of the law which prohibits the depositing, conveying or delivering of all matter of an indecent character.

The instructions contained in the postmaster general's order "are not to be used to irritate, annoy or intimidate publishers," and postmasters are instructed to use discretion and conservatism in order that no innocent publisher may suffer injustice.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 19, 1908

THE nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency by the national republican convention at Chicago yesterday and by the exact vote predicted by the managers was a foregone conclusion and caused no surprise to those who from the beginning have seen that President Roosevelt would manage and control the convention and name the candidates. The president had complete mastery over the convention, which did his bidding to the letter—the members vieing with each other in their subserviency to their master's will. He forced the nomination of Secretary Taft and dictated the platform, and would brook no interference. The large majority of the convention delegates were officeholders and obeyed instructions literally. Mr. Taft is a good man and an eminent public servant, but it is difficult to observe anywhere evidences of his popularity. He has no following throughout the country such as have had many other candidates and he must, in a great measure, rely on the president for his support in the election as he did for the nomination. The naming of Mr. Sherman, of New York, for the second place on the ticket was, it is also believed, by the order of President Roosevelt. Mr. Sherman was the leader of the "insurgents" and the president's idea is to conciliate them and win their support. That he will use the whole power of the administration for the election of Taft and Sherman, even resorting to pernicious political activity, no one who knows the president will doubt. Still the ticket is a weak one and a united democracy can defeat it at the polls next November.

MR. JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS, of Mississippi, has resigned his post of democratic leader of the House of Representatives which he has ably held since 1903, beginning with the Fifty-eighth Congress. He succeeded Representative Richardson, of Tennessee, in that position. For more than a decade he has been one of the foremost congressmen in the House and before being chosen minority leader he was regarded as one of the ablest debaters in that body. Mr. Williams will become senator to succeed Senator Hernando D. Money whose term, however, does not expire until March 3, 1911. Mr. Williams is a brilliant man, an able debater, and an apt parliamentarian, and his leadership will be missed by his colleagues in the House. He is built of presidential timber and doubtless had he been born north of Mason and Dixon's line would ere this have received the democratic nomination for that office.

SPEAKER CANNON has marked himself for relegation to the ranks in the next Congress, if Roosevelt, Taft and their supporters can bring it about. This was decided by the president and Secretary Taft, at their recent conferences at the White House. The Illinois congressman has irritated the White House frequently by opposition to measures advocated by the president, but he has gone beyond toleration in his fight at Chicago, threatening the president's supremacy in the party. It is intimated in quarters close to Roosevelt and Taft that the overthrow of Cannon, if Taft is elected, will not be difficult; that a large element of the majority in the House has needed only a leader or substantial backing to elect another speaker. Heretofore the White House has taken no stand against Cannon's election, but war has now been declared.

THE PLATFORM adopted by the national republican convention at Chicago yesterday lauds President Roosevelt to the skies, declaring his administration an epoch in American history and that the highest aspirations of the American people have found a voice, and asserting that American manhood has been lifted to a nobler sense of duty and obligation. It then goes on to praise pretty much everything the party has done or claims to have done and practically claims for itself the earth and the fullness thereof. As the platform was written by the president himself or under his personal direction the fulsome praise of Roosevelt and his administration will appear self laudatory to the average reader.

THE MANY friends of Mr. R. Lindsey Gordon will regret to learn that that gentleman is on the verge of nervous prostration, the result of the two active campaigns through which he has passed. Mr. Gordon is one of the brightest men in the district and one who has for years been prominent in the affairs of the State. It is hoped that his indisposition may be of short duration. Only those who have passed through an active campaign realize the incessant labor and anxiety incident thereto. Some have had their usefulness impaired during the remainder of their lives. It is hoped that it will not prove so in Mr. Gordon's case.

Secretary Taft offers the Catholic authorities $866,000 for the church lands the Cuban government desires to purchase in Oriente province.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.

Secretary Taft is now preparing his resignation as secretary of war and expects to present it to the president later in the day. He will leave Washington at four o'clock this afternoon for Cincinnati to confer with his brother, Charles P. Taft, on the political situation. He will go from Cincinnati to New Haven arriving at the latter city Monday afternoon. It is announced that General Luke E. Wright, former governor of the Phillippines and later ambassador to Japan, will succeed Mr. Taft as secretary of war. Secretary Taft placed his resignation in the hands of the president later in the morning. It will not become effective until July 1.

Official announcement is made at the White House of the resignation of Mr. Taft as secretary of war, and the appointment of Luke F. Wright, of Tennessee, to succeed him.

Official announcement is made at the White House of the resignation of Mr. Taft as Secretary of War, and the appointment of Luke E. Wright, of Tennessee, to succed him.

Washington, June 18, 1908.

Mr. President: I hereby tender my resignation as secretary of war to take effect June 30th next.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. H. TAFT.

Hon. W. H. Taft:

Your resignation is hereby accepted, to take effect June 30th.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The following telegram from Senator LaFollette was received by Secretary Taft today: "While the platform is disappointing in some fundamental provisions and omissions, and I shall claim the right to say so, I congratulate you most sincerely, and in the fact that you are more nearly in accord with the body of republican voters than the platform, I shall do all in my power to insure your election." Mr. Taft has received telegrams of congratulations from all the other defeated candidates.

The president today appointed James A. Fowler, of Knoxville, Tenn. to be assistant attorney general in place of Edward T. Sandford, appointed U. S. judge for the Eastern and Middle districts of Tennessee.

Adaler B. Coates has been appointed postmaster at Acorn, Westmoreland county, Va., and James S. Evans at Buckhall, Prince William county, Va.

Hundreds of telegrams of enthusiastic congratulations upon his successful candidacy for the presidential nomination poured in all night and day in Secretary Taft's office. By the time he had arrived from his house this morning the stack was more than 100 deep and by the time he returned from the Cabinet meeting they numbered fully 1,000. These messages came from all parts of the world, from all the unsuccessful candidates, great leaders of the party throughout the country, Wall street financiers, leaders of the colored race, prominent labor men, bishops in foreign lands, American ambassadors abroad, prominent citizens of the Philippines and officials of the Japanese government in Tokio. Robert Taft arose early and got his telegram in as follows: "Congratulations for great victory for the whole family." The following came from Booker T. Washington Tuskegee: "Both hearty and sincere congratulations. You more than deserve it all. I feel quite sure you will be triumphantly elected to the presidency and that my race will assist in bringing about that result." Telegrams containing the most sincere congratulations were received from each of the defeated candidates.

News of the Day.

The Summit House, a summer resort at the top of Mount Washington, known to thousands of tourists, was burned last night.

The Lincoln Savings and Trust Company, of Philadelphia, for which a receiver was appointed yesterday, failed to open its doors this morning. The company was established in 1895 and has a paid up capital of $132 000.

Russia is making inquiries as to the exact wording of the speech alleged to have been made by Emperor William in which he is said to have intimated that Germany was ready to defend herself against all possible enemies.

Peter G. Hagan, the marine who died in Philadelphia Wednesday night, as the result of a boxing bout with "Johnny" Hogan on board the battleship Mississippi, was a member of a Chicago family. Physicians say the marine died from heart disease, due to exhaustion. Hogan was surrendered to the police, but he was not taken into custody. The death of the marine was announced to those assembled on the warship to witness the boxing bouts by Rev. Father Roaney, chaplain of the battleship. The chaplain presided during the entertainment.

Three men of the National Guard New York, Ninth Regiment, at Fort Wadsworth, were seriously injured last night during the height of the war games while they were serving a six-inch gun in Battery Dix. The names of the men are Harvey, McDowell and Walsh. McDowell's right arm was blown off by what is presumed to have been the flare back due to the faulty locking of the breechlock. Harvey's skull is reported to have been crushed in by his being hurled against the stonemasonry, and Walsh's injuries consist of powder burns.

BISHOP BRENT.

Bishop Brent said in Manila yesterday that he had received a cable stating he was re-elected Bishop of Washington and also that a cleric had been sent him to induce him to change his mind.

Bishop Brent says he had no intention to leave until Wednesday, when the doctors told him he had an affection of the nose and ears from the climate, and advised him that his return to America was necessary. Bishop Brent was loth to leave, but feared he must accede, for if he stayed he might be incapacitated for work.

Bishop Brent had a message from President Roosevelt urging him to come. The bishop believes, although his heart is wrapped in the Philippines work, he might do much in Washington.

The Pretender Recruiting.

Tangier, June 19.—Additions are being made to the ranks of Mulai Hafid, the pretender, almost daily and the overthrow of Abdul Azis, the recognized sultan, is believed to be imminent. Mulai Hafid's followers are becoming more and more fanatical and all hope of a peaceful settlement of the uprising is at an end. Tetuan is the latest to proclaim Mulai Hafid the sultan. The pretender is reiterating his demand that the powers recognize his claim to the throne.

TAFT THE NOMINEE.

As anticipated, Secretary Taft was nominated on the first ballot in the national republican convention in Chicago, yesterday evening His vote was 702 delegates. Mr. Hitchcock has consistently been claiming 704. The two men who got away were delegates from New Jersey.

When the time arrived yesterday for the presentation of the names of the candidates for president of the United States the chairman of the convention directed the secretary to call the roll by States in alphabetical order. Those having no candidates so announced as they were called upon. When a State was reached which did have a candidate his sponsors placed him in nomination. When the Gazettes report closed Senator Foraker's name had been presented following those of Cannon, Fairbanks, Hughes and Taft. Later the names of Senators Knox and LaFollette were presented.

A wild cheer greeted Mr. McGee as he closed his nomination of LaFollette and the demonstration that followed exceeded in intensity that which had greeted the presentation of any candidate except Taft. The cheering rapidly increased, when a man named Seifert, who is a messenger in the United States Senate, held up a picture of Roosevelt. The uproar was so great at the time the picture was shown that it was impossible to tell exactly where the LaFollette enthusiasm ended and the Roosevelt cheers began. The Wisconsin men took full charge of the outburst, however, and led it with vigor and increasing energy minute by minute as the time went on.

Sergeant-at-Arms Stone directed one of his assistants to go to Seifert and order him to take down the picture of Roosevelt. It was promptly done, but the cheering went on undiminished. The excitement was entirely in the galleries, the delegates, with the exception of Wisconsin, remaining quietly in their seats, waiting for the tornado to pass.

The rollcall was then ordered and as it proceeded the chairman of the various delegations, unable to make their voices heard, continued to come up to the platform, and yelled the votes of their states into the ears of the secretary.

Georgia split up her vote, casting 8 votes for Foraker and 17 for Taft. Cannon failed to hold his own state firmly, three votes being cast for Taft.

By the time Kentucky was reached on the roll the crowds had quieted down at last, but cheers greeted each of the announcements for Taft. Solid votes for Taft came from Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri and other states, but New Jersey split her votes among four candidates—15 for Taft, 3 for Cannon, 2 for Fairbanks and 4 for Knox.

New York caused a long break in the rollcall by demanding that the names of the delegates be called and that they by allowed to vote individually.

One of the delegates delivered himself of a speech, saying that, while he was under instructions for Hughes, he personally favored Taft. Other delegates voted for Taft, while Benjamin B. Odell, jr., voted for Cannon, another delegate following his lead a second later.

Representative Sereno E. Payne voted with the Hughes delegates. The total vote was divided as follows: Hughes, 61; Taft, 10; Cannon, 6; absent, 1.

North Carolina went solidly for Taft, as did North Dakota. Ohio cast 42 for Taft and 4 for Foraker. This was the critical point in the ballot, and it was his own state that carried the Ohio candidate over to victory.

There was a decided sensation when Pensylvania was called and the chairman announced:

"Sixty-four for Knox, one for Taft and three votes for Theodore Roosevelt."

Chairman Lodge ordered the galleries cleared, but the demonstration was shortlived.

There had been 469 votes cast for Taft when Ohio was reached and the nomination was made.

The 42 votes of Ohio gave Taft 511, whereas only 491 were required.

South Carolina demanded that her vote be taken by delegates. The vote was: Taft, 13; Foraker, 2; Fairbanks, 2; absent, 1.

South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont went solidly for Taft.

West Virginia, which was supposed to be the breeding place of the Roosevelt boom, went for Taft, white LaFollette lost a vote in Wisconsin, it being cast for Taft. The territories went solidly for Taft, and the final result was: Taft, 702; Cannon, 61; Knox, 68; LaFollette, 25; Hughes, 63; Fairbanks, 40; Foraker, 56; Roosevelt, 3.

Although the vote announced by the chairman is official and must stand until corrected today, the tellers after the adjournment revised their figures and claimed the result to be: Taft, 701; Foraker, 16; Hughes, 65; Cannon, 61; Fairbanks, 40; Knox, 68; LaFollette, 25; Roosevelt, 3; absent 1. Total, 980.

A considerable delay was occasioned by some confusion among the accountants who kept the tally of the ballot, and it was 5:15 before Chairman Lodge read out the vote given above. A roar greeted the announcement of the Taft vote, which was given last, but the wearied delegates and spectators were not equal to a sustained effort and the enthusiasm soon spent itself.

The band played "The Star-spangled Banner," and many in the crowd joined in singing the national anthem.

After this the demonstration ceased. A big crayon portrait of Taft was brought to the stage and prominently placed.

General Woodford, of New York, was recognized and said:

"Mr. Chairman: On the request of Governor Hughes and of the united New York delegation, I move that the nomination of William H. Taft be made unanimous."

Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, and Representative Boutell, of Illinois, both clamored for recognition. The former was given the first chance and he moved to make the nomination unanimous. Mr. Boutell seconded the motion, and Indiana, Wisconsin and the Foraker delegates followed suit.

The motion was put by the chairman and carried with a shout.

"I declare the vote to be unanimous," said the chairman, and the last cheer of the day was given in response.

It was on motion of Senator Fulton, of Oregon, that the convention took a recess at 5:22 p. m. until this morning at 10 o'clock.

The platform submitted by the committee on resolutions was adopted without change by the convention. The general amendments proposed were voted down. The committee was in session half of Wednesday night before adopting the modified injunction plank. A telegram from the president and another from Secretary Taft had the desired effect, and the plank was adopted by a decisive vote. The following is the plank in the platform as it was adopted by the convention:

The republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute, and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted.

"Inexpressibly happy!"

Secretary of War Taft who was in Washington greeted the news of his nomination with this expression. "I would like to say more," he said, "but just now words don't frame themselves. I am simply happy."

Surrounded by members of his family, high officers and bureau chiefs of the War Department and representatives of the press, who were admitted to his office as soon as the announcemeht of his nomination was assured at 6 p. m., the Secretary of War, after this brief expression of his joy, was the recipient of an ovation as those present formed in line and clutched his hand in congratulation.

Upon being informed of Mr. Taft's nomination President Roosevelt said:

"I feel that the country is, indeed, to be congratulated upon the nomination of Mr. Taft. I have known him intimately for many years and I have a peculiar feeling for him because throughout that time we have worked for the same object, with the same purposes and ideals. I do not believe there could be found in all the country a man so well fitted to be president. He is not only absolutely fearless, absolutely disinterested and upright, but he has the widest acquaintance with the nation's needs without and within and the broadest sympathies with all our citizens. He would be as emphatically a president of the plain people as Lincoln, yet not Lincoln himself would be freer from the least taint of demagogy, the least tendency to arouse or appeal to class hatred of any kind. He has a peculiar and intimate knowledge of and sympathy with the needs of all our people—of the farmer, of the wage-worker, of the business man, of the property owner. No matter what a man's occupation or social position, no matter what his creed, his color or the section of the country from which he comes, if he is an honest, hard-working man, who tries to do his duty toward his neighbor and toward the country, he can rest assured that he will have in Mr. Taft the most upright of representatives and the most fearless of champions. Mr. Taft stands against privilege and he stands pre-eminently for the broad principles of American citizenship which lie at the foundation of our national well-being."

1857, September 15, born in Cincinnati; 1878, graduated from Yale; 1880, graduated in law at Cincinnati College and admitted to the bar; 1881, assistant prosecuting attorney; 1882, collector of internal revenue; 1885, assistant county solicitor; 1887, judge of Ohio superior court; 1892, United States circuit judge; 1900, March 13, president Philippines commission; 1901, July 1, civil governor of the Philippines; 1904, February 1, secretary of war.

Among the telegrams which Secretary Taft received was one from Representative and Mrs. Longworth.

"Chicago, June 18, 1908.

"Secretary William H. Taft.

"Greatest triumph all the way through. Best love from us both.

"NICK AND ALICE."

Sherman for Vice President.

Chicago, June 19.—The republican national convention was called to order at 10:19 this morning.

Chairman Lodge, when asked a few minutes before the convention was called to order what he thought of the vice presidential situation, replied: "There's nothing in it but Sherman."

It was all Sherman when the delegates began arriving at the convention hall today. The New Yorker's boom grew like a mushroom during the early hours and New York's delegate came into the convention hall full of ginger and confidence, claiming to have lined up solid delegations from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Oregon, Idaho, Wyoming, Washington, Utah, Colorado, Kansas, Texas and Louisiana.

"There's nothing to it but Sherman," was the statement of Chairman Lodge to the newspaper men as he came to the speaker's table and immediately the talk started that the nomination might be made by acclamation.

Following the calling of the convention to order by Chairman Lodge the invocation was delivered by Rabbi Tobias Schanfarber.

Chairman Lodge formally announced the nomination of Taft for the presidency.

A. Dennison, of Illinois, a colored man, was called to preside over the convention while Lodge nominated Gov. Guild.

The nominations of Fairbanks, Sheldon and Murphy followed.

In the midst of the enthusiasm resulting from the nominations Speaker Jos. Cannon, of Illinois, was seen forcing his way to the front. He had been given the courtesy of the floor and he emerged from his seclusion at the Union League Club for the express purpose of seconding Sherman's nomination. No speaker who had yet taken the platform received such an ovation as did Speaker Cannon. Delegates, alternates and officials joined with the galleries in the mighty roar of applause, and it was some time before Chairman Lodge could make any impression on the bedlam, but finally Mr. Cannon was able to make his voice heard above the din and his first utterance gained attention.

"Mr. Chairman and gentlemen," he began, "I would rather be a doorkeeper in the House of Lords than to dwell in the tents of wickedness. (Wild applause and laughter.) Since its organization the party of law, the wisdom of keeping in the path of civilization this republican party has preserved the ideals and the aspirations of the American people. It has nominated for its leader William H. Taft, a broad, cultured, judicial-minded executive official, who has never failed to answer every draft that has been made on his ability for the republicans and all the people. I most heartily and cheerfully without mental reservation say that Wm. H. Taft is my candidate and I congratulate this great convention on having made no mistake in nominating him. In the closing hour of this convention there is a man's duty to perform and that is to nominate a candidate for vice president, the running mate of Wm. H. Taft. * * * William H. Taft and James S. Sherman will fill the measure, and I believe they will be president and vice president for the coming four years. Good bye."

The nomination was subsequently made unanimous.

Mr. Sherman was declared the nominee for vice president.

Senator Gallinger, of New Hamshire, offered a resolution making Senator Lodge chairman of the committee to notify Secretary Taft of his nomination and Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee to notify Sherman.

Mr. Lodge announced he could not accept, and proposed Gen. W. M. Warner, of Missouri, in his place. This was agreed to. Resolutions thanking the officers of the convention was adopted.

James Schoolcraft Sherman was born in Utica, N. Y., October 24, 1855. In March, 1884, he was elected mayor of Utica. Mr. Sherman is an orator of no mean ability. He was elected to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first and has served in that body ever since.

Rejoicing in the Philippines.

Manila, June 19.—The nomination of Wm. H. Taft for the presidency occasioned great enthusiasm in Manila and throughout the Philippines. Even those who are demanding immediate independence for the islands believe, that in the event of his election, their cause will have a sympathetic advocate.

The republican nominee is personally known to many of the Philippine leaders, and on his visits to the island has won a host of friends and for this reason more interest will be taken in his candidacy than if another had been named. The legislature adjourned today to meet again in February. The majority of the members declare that the Filipinos are in favor of immediate independence and a stronger campaign than ever will be waged along this line. In case Mr. Taft is elected president the question of Philippine independence will be one of the first with which he will have to concern himself.

Congratulatory Messages.

Accept my hearty congratulations and my earnest good wishes for the success of the ticket of Taft and Sherman.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Secretary Taft also sent a congratulatory message. He announced upon leaving the White House that his resignation as Secretary of War would become effective on June 30. The text of the telegram Secretary Taft sent to Representative Sherman follows:

I sincerely and cordially congratulate you on your nomination as vice president; welcome you as a colleague in the contest, and look forward with confidence to the result of joint struggle. Will you meet me in Cincinnati tomorrow to confer on matters of importance? WILLIAM H. TAFT.

One of the matters the two candidates will take up will be the choice of a campaign manager.

London Papers on the Nomination.

London, June 19.—Following the lead of the morning newspapers, whose comments on the nomination of W. H. Taft are for the most part of the friendliest nature, the afternoon papers commend his selection, though a few are inclined to sneer at his supposed subserviency to President Roosevelt and his acquiesence in everything that Roosevelt stands for.

Electric Gun.

Paris, June 19.—Army men are greatly interested in a new gun, invented by M. Pouteaux, an engineer. Pouteaux says the gun will fire 1,200 bullets a minute by the use of electricity, no powder being used or no explosion resulting. The claims made for the gun are so sweeping that experts are inclined to be skeptical, but a thorough test will be made.

Death of an Operator.

Chicago, June 19.—Col. Hamilton Young, of Washington, in charge of the newspaper business of the Western Union Telegraph Company at the republican convention and one of the oldest operators in the country, died early today at the home of his son in this city of heart trouble.

Restraining Order Issued

New York, June 19.—Justice Bischoff of the supreme court this afternoon issued an order restraining the police from interferring with betting at the Sheephead Bay race track. The order is made returnable at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 19.—At the end of the first five minutes trading the market was irregular. All the selling was by room traders and appears to be for short account.

After the first hour the market became steadier and excepting a few stocks that were depressed because of the recent unfavorable developments the tone was strong and in many cases a good part of the losses on the downward movement of the first hour were recovered.

Conditions on the Isthmus.

Colon, Panama, June 19.—Keen interest is manifested here in the cable reports from Washington announcing that several warships and more than a thousand additional marines are being sent to the Isthmus for the purpose of preventing riots in the approaching elections and also prevent a possible revolution. This news is received with open regret on the part of government officials, who apparently realize that it means the defeat of General Arias. Likewise, Senor Obaldia and followers have taken cheerful heart, confident that if the polls are protected, their candidates will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

Request has been made by Obaldia of Senator Blackburn, for the presence of marines at all of the polling places for the muncipal elections on June 28, and this request has been forwarded to Washington by the senator. He also has been asked to have marines placed not only at the central sears, but at all outlying and remote places, where Obaldia people believe plans are being made to overthrow the polls.

Reports received at both Colon and Panama cities show that the iron hands of Amader and Arias are being tightened in a most menacing manner at every possible point. Many arbitrary acts are said to have been committed by them.

Julius Wernher Victimized.

Paris, June 1.—Paris is having a good laugh at the expense of Sir Julius Wernher, of the De Beers Mining Company, who was victimized by Henri Lemoine, the "diamond maker," to the tune of $320,000. Wernher, feeling the humiliation of his position, sought to escape ridicule for being so "easy" by declaring that he never had any faith in Lemoine's claims and that he only invested in the alleged invention, by which diamonds could be turned ont by the bushel, to protect the De Beers company.

Wernher was afraid that there might possibly be something in Lemoine's claim, so he now says, and he feared that a rival diamond company might get hold of it and put the De Beers people out of business. Just to protect the De Beers people, therefore, he bought the rights to the "invention." The thing that Parisians don't understand is why Wernher should have paid out his own money, instead of making the De Beers Company stand for the "invention." Mme. Lemoine has sued her fugitive husband for divorce. She is out $75,000 by his diamond making flim-flam.

"A Proinjunction Plank."

Chicago, June 19.—"That isn't an anti-injunction plank the republican convention adopted. Its a proinjunction plank. The only difference between the republican party's principles now and before the convention is that the people who are to be enjoined shall have notice."

This is the opinion of Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, on the platform adopted by the republican convention yesterday. The executive council of the federation will adjourn this evening until July 6 when they will meet in Denver and there try to get their anti-injunction plank into the democratic platform.

The Suburban Races.

New York, June 19.—There will be no record breaking attendance at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon to witness the 25th running of the Suburban, owing to the new anti-betting law, but many thousands who love the sport will be on hand to witness the race. Society, too, will be well represented. The favorite is James R. Keene's Ballot, and despite the fact that he carries top weight, 127 pounds, conceding some five to thirty-four pounds to the other contestants, many believe Ballot's chances are better than any of other entrants. Master Robert and King James also have been admirers and many believe that the colors of the Keene colt will be lowered. Dorante and Fair Play are also well thought of.

KILLED IN A STREET FIGHT.

One man killed, three seriously wounded, a and colored woman shot in the arm was the result of a desperate battle on the principal street of Memphis yesterday.

The battle was waged between William Wylie, an Illinois Central Railroad conductor, and members of the city detective force. The fight started in front of the Lyric Theatre and continued through streets and alleys four blocks to Court square, where Wylie was finally captured.

The melee started when Wylie became engaged in an altercation at the Lyric Theater with the ticket-seller. The dispute became so violent that Detective Lawless, who was in the building, came outside and warned Wylie to desist.

The reply was the pulling of a gun by Wylie. He began to fire almost immediately. The streets were crowded with people, and the shooting caused a stampede.

POSTMASTER REMOVED.

For some time Denham has been an opponent of Representative Hubbard, who represents the district in which Clarksburg is situated. The congressman recently started out after Denham's scalp, and convinced the president that Denham was neglecting his office to participate in politics. This the president thought inexcusable. Denham is a strong Foraker man. His successor, Homer W. Williams, was named yesterday. He is a strong supporter of Representative Hubbard.

REIGNS LEADERSHIP.

A dispatch from Enfaula, Ala., says that Congressman John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, has resigned the minority leadership of the House of Representatives, to take effect December 1 next. This announcement was made by Congressman H. D. Clayton, chairman of the democratic caucus.

Mr. Williams' letter, under date of June 13, follows:

"I write this letter to you as my resignation of the position of parliamentary floor leader for the minority, the resignation to take place upon the first Monday in December following this date. I have been thinking about it a good deal and it seems to me, that if the next house goes democratic, whoever is going to be speaker of that house ought to have at least the training of the last, or short, session of this Congress, not only to fit him for its parliamentary duties, but also to make a more intimate acquaintance with the personnel on the democratic side than he perhaps otherwise might have. If, upon the other hand, the next house shall be republican, the parliamentary training will be just as necessary in order to fit him for the very arduous duties of leadership during the Sixty-first Congress.

"I need not tell you, of course, because you know it, how much I shall personally welcome the release from hard work and from the limelight. As you and some close personal friends know, I would, because of the condition of my health, have laid down the work long before this but for the appearance of 'quitting while under fire.' I would not, however, permit the prospect of the work alone to make me quit if that were all. I am actuated solely by the idea that the course I am taking is best for the party.

"In sending in the resignation this early, so that you can have it published, instead of waiting until next December, I have been actuated by the idea that it was fair only to the members of the party that they should have time between now and then fully to consider whom they wanted to succeed me.

"I have nothing but good feeling for all the democrats in the House, I am glad that in laying down the weapons with which they have armed me, I can do so with the recollection that the last Congress was one almost unprecedented in democratic annals in harmony of action and unity of purpose on the democratic side.

"If the next campaign could be fought simply upon the issues made in this last session of Congress, I would have no sort of doubt of democratic success. No matter what the issues may be and how things will turn out, we will have the recollection of having stood shoulder to shoulder with one another, and we can now with great reason entertain strong hope of democratic governmental reformation. Whether we can earn success at the polls next November or not, we have deserved it, and that is all that poor mortals can do. They cannot compel fate.

"I sincerely hope, and express the hope to you and to the democratic caucus, that the tide of centralization and of federal usurpation of governmental power has seen its height and is now on the ebb."

It is understood that the leadership of the democrats will probably fall upon Champ Clark, of Missouri.

Other democrats who have been prominently mentioned as possible successors of John Sharp Williams in the leadership of the minority are Representatives Henry, of Texas; De Armond, of Missouri, and Bartlett, of Georgia.

SUICIDE OF BANK PRESIDENT.

D. H. Fawcett, president of the Aberdeen, Ohio, Banking Company, shot himself in the head yesterday, dying almost instantly.

The suicide occurred as officers, carrying a warrant charging Fawcett with misappropriating funds of the bank, were breaking down the doors of his barricaded home to place him under arrest.

The warrant and the tragedy followed the appointment Wednesday of W. A. List as receiver of the Aberdeen Banking Company, which closed its doors several days ago.

Fawcett organized the bank as a private concern two years ago, with a capitalization of $40,000. Deposits were large. Fawcett came to Aberdeen from Webster, Va., where a son is in the banking business. He was 52 years of age and leaves a widow, son and two daughters.

CARNAGE IN KOREA.

Korea is now divided into 300 districts, each of which is provided with 20 auxiliary Korean gendarmes, commanded by a Japanese officer, and telephone and telegraph connections.

Carefully collected and verified statistics show that Korean insurgents within the past eight months have murdered 826 peaceful Koreans who were members of the pro-Japanese Society and burned 360 houses, with a loss of 50,000 yen. In a number of cases entire crops were confiscated and women assaulted.

The fact that Korean bandits have killed many more Koreans than Japanese in the same period, and, it is believed, have completely ruined many Koreans known to favor Japanese control, upholds the policy of the present Korean cabinet.

ORDINATION AT THE SEMINARY

The second ordination for this week at the Ep'scopal Seminary near this city was held this morning at eleven o'clock in the chapel. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Robert H. Goodwin, of Richmond, and was most appropriate to the occasion. Bishop Peterkin took the whole ordination service in the absence of the other bishops who are either in, or on their way to Europe. The following students were ordained deacons by him: For the Bishop of Virginia Messrs. Walter Russell Bowie, M. A., presented by his rector, the Rev. R. W. Forsyth, of St. Paul's Church, Richmond, and J. J. Gravatt, jr., presented by his father, who is rector of Holy Trinity Church, Richmond; for the diocese of Washington, Mr. Walter Williams, presented by his rector, the Rev. Walter P. Griggs, of Poolesville, Md.;—for Bishop Funsten, of Idaho, Mr. Herbert Jukes, presented by the Rev. Prof. Wallis, and for his own diocese of West Virginia, Mr. James D. Gibson, presented by his father, the Rev. John S. Gibson, of Huntingdon, West Va. Of the deacons ordained, the Rev. W. R. Bowie is assigned to Greenwood, Va.; the Rev. J. J. Gravatt, jr., has accepted the secretaryship of the Church Students' Missionary Association for at least one year; the Rev. Walter Williams to Grace Church, Georgetown, D. C.; the Rev. James D. Gibson to Paint Rock, West, Va. The Rev. Mr. Jukes will spend the summer abroad and take work under Bishop Funsten in the fall; the Rev. James Hubard Lloyd, ordained last Wednesday, is going as a missionary to Japan; the Rev. T. N. Lawrence is appointed to Bloxom on the Easter Shore; the Rev. Mills Colgate Daughtrey to Franklin, Va., and the Rev. C. W. Sydnor to Tazewell county. Five students of the present senior class were ordained in Memorial Church, Baltimore, last Sunday. Messrs. Benjamin D. Chambers, D. A.; John Long Jackson, B. A.; Eugene S. Pearce, Sewell B. Perry Ayscough, and Henry V. Saunders, B. A. The Rev. Charles Clingman was ordained last Christmas by Bishop Burton, of Lexington, Ky. Rev. Wallace N. Pierson was the last person ordained by Bishop Satterlee before his death and has work in Washington, D. C. The following students of the graduating class, will be ordained in their respective dioceses: Messrs. M. S. Barnwell and Clinton Quinn in Louisville, Ky., next Sunday, by Bishop Woodcock; Mr. Walter R. Noe, of the diocese of East Carolina, will be ordained in the fall, and Mr. Levin I. Insley, of the diocese of Easton will also be ordained next fall by Bishop Adams.

The services were solemn and impressive and attended by a large congregation. The number of alumni in attendance was not so large as it has been for the past two years owing for one reason to the number of clergy abroad.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY

[Judge J. B. T. Thornton, presiding.

F. L. Ball, administrator of Richard A. Rogers vs. Southern Railway Co., a suit for $10,000 damages for injuries resulting in the death of the boy, Rogers; jury and verdict for plaintiff for $400. The boy was a passenger on a train with a colored woman on December 28 last and when she got off the cars at Potomac she left the child standing on the platform, from which he fell and died from his injuries in a few days afterwards. It was claimed that the train did not stop long enough for the boy to get off. The case was closely contested by Messrs. Machen and Moncure for plaintiff and by Col. F. L. Smith and Mr. R. D. Brumback for defendant and was before the court for three days.

Vaughn vs. W., A. & Mt. V. Rwy. Co., suit for damages for $5,000 for injuries sustained by plaintiff by being struck by a train of defendant company; case continued till Monday next on account of the illness of an important witness.

DEATH OF CASSIUS AUGUR.

Mr. Cassius Augur, a former resident of this city, died suddenly in Baltimore on Wednesday. The funeral took place in that city this afternoon. About forty years ago the deceased conducted a public house on the south side of Prince street near Pitt. The building about ten years previous to that time had been used as the post office. Mr. Augur's home was for several years the resort of many representative men of the city. It was a small structure well patronized and regarded as "Ye Olde Cheshire Cheese" or "Mitre Tavern" of Alexandria. It finally ran its course. A recession set in, many of the regular patrons having died or left the city. Eventually "Cas Augur's" became a recollection only.

MR. GORDON IN A SANITARIUM.

Mr. R. Lindsey Gordon is said to be on the verge of nervous prostration following the hard campaign which he recently passed through in endeavoring to secure the democratic nomination for Congress from this district. Mr. Gordon is now in a sanitarium in Richmond, and will leave in a few days on a visit to his brother-in-law, J. O. Winston, at Ashokan Dam, Brown station, N. Y., for a period of rest with a change of climate. It is said that Mr. Gordon suffered a similar attack while the campaign was in progress.

To City Taxpayers—Notice.

Collector's Office, June 17, 1908.

Notice is hereby given that the tax bills for 1908 are now in the hands of the Collector. The attention of parties interested is respectfully called to the following extract from the revenue bill of that year:

"Upon all bills paid in full by the 1st day of July, 1908, the Collector of Taxes shall allow a discount of ten per cent, and on all bills paid by the 1st day of September, 1908, he shall allow a discount of five per cent, and on all bills not paid on the 1st day of December, 1908, there shall be assessed and collected a penalty of five per cent upon the amount of said bills, and on all bills remaining unpaid on the 1st day of June, 1909, damages at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be paid."

Taxpayers would do well to call and pay at once in order to avoid the rush and crowd usually present on the last days in which the discount is allowed.

Bring a list to make sure you get bills for all your property, as the Collector will not be responsible or allow the discount after the time fixed by law. P. F. GORMAN, Collector of City Taxes. je18july1

OFFICIAL.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 6, 1908.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the dog or canine species should come forward on or before JUNE TWENTY-FIFTH, 1908, and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

Attention is also called to the fact that while the payment of a license tax is required by the laws of the city whether a dog as kept on the premises of the owner at all times or not, yet the payment of such tax does not entitle the dog to the unrestricted use of the streets and alleys of the city, both day and night, for it is provided by law that "The Mayor in addition at any and all times, in his discretion, by proclamation shall declare that all such dogs as above licensed shall be securely muzzled, and if any such dogs be found running at large during the continuance of such proclamation without the required muzzle they shall be seized by the police force, or other persons designated by the Mayor for such purposes," and conveyed to a suitable place and destroyed.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

How Woxall Was Named.

Near Schwenksville, Pa., is a village that bears the name of Woxall. This wonderful name was the result of an error upon the part of the postoffice department in Washington. The place was known many years ago as "Croppestettel," or "Crowtown," and later as Mechanicsville, but when a postoffice was established there in 1888 neither of these names was satisfactory, and it was decided to choose a new cognomen. Many were the suggestions submitted to the postoffice department, but all were found to be too nearly like the name of some other postoffice to be acceptable. One day the village storekeeper saw the word "Noxall" upon a piece of calico and called the attention of several friends to it. At once all agreed that "Noxall" would be a fine name for their town. So the postoffice authorities were notified. Soon a letter came from Washington approving the name that had been chosen, but in the letter it was spelled "Woxall." So Woxall became the name of the village.—Philadelphia Record.

What Puzzled Her.

A woman whose religious education had been received in the plain edifice erected by an unassuming New England congregation was persuaded, much against her will, to attend divine service in one of New York's most showy churches. She showed from the start that, notwithstanding her puritanical training, she was interested in the proceedings. She studied the elaborate ceremony, the architecture, the richly tinted windows and the altar decorations closely. By and by her eyes became fixed on the ceiling. Her friend wondered what particular feature of those lofty heights held her attention for so long a time. During a lull in the chanting of the choir she tried to find out.

"Oh," said the New England woman in tones of infinite concern, "I was just wondering how on earth they get away up there to dust the rafters!"—New York Post.

What Is "All Wool?"

I have met a county magnate, a wealthy man who would not be put off with anything but the best, if he knew it, clad in a handsome "homespun" suit, the delicate blue gray mixture of which I happened to know was produced by the judicious blending of old blue stockings, such as navvies wear with old white stockings. I have seen a "society" lady in a stylish "blanket tweed" motor coat, the composition of which I knew to be of such a nature that it might very easily owe its existence in part to the cast-off hosiery of her own scullery maid, collected from the ash bin. Even the judge trying a case of "misrepresentation of goods" may, as likely as not, be unconsciously sitting in somebody else's thrown away rags that he has bought as "all wool."—A Woolen Manufacturer in Grand Magazine.

His Modest Claim.

A claim for damages against a railroad company is so often a license for exorbitant charges that a simple bill, such as was received by an American railroad company many years ago, even apart from its humorous aspect, is refreshing. It ran as follows:

The —— and —— Railroad company to John Smith Dr.

July 19, 1837.—To running your Locomotive into my wife; as per Doctor's bill for curing her $10.00
To smashing ban box and spilling her hat 3.87
To upsetting my deer born (wagon) and breaking it 35.00
To hurting me 5.00
$53.87

There is authority for stating that the claim was paid immediately.—Scrap Book.

Her Chilly Retort.

The late Dr. —— of Malden, after pouring forth the story of his undying love in the most touching manner for over an hour to a young woman who he hoped would become his fourth wife, was refused the second time. He started for the door; but, looking around, he said in a most thunderous tone, "By heavens, you are the coldest woman I ever saw!"

The young woman looked up and answered sweetly:

"Oh, no, doctor; you have seen three colder than I!"—Boston Herald.

A Curious Notice.

This curious official notice was once published in Germany: "At the request of Herr Wilhelm Leigson of Innsbruck the seaman, Johan Leigson, who was drowned in May, 1869, on a journey from Stockholm to Hamburg in the Kaiser Friedrich, is hereby called upon by the courts to appear and report himself on or before April 1, 1881, under pain of being declared dead."

Financial Note.

Jerrold—Could you pay me that 10 shillings you owe me? I owe Johnson some money and want to pay him. Hobart—Well, I'll tell you what. You pay Johnson what you owe him, and then I'll borrow 10 shillings off Johnson and pay you.

Unjust.

Fluffy Young Thing (at the play)—I believe this man in front of us is trying to hear what we're saying. Man In Front (turning around)—You do me an injustice, my dear young lady. I am trying not to hear it.—Chicago Tribune.

Familiar.

Visitor—Will you tell your master that I called? Servant—Yes, sir, if you will please tell me your name. Visitor—That is unnecessary. He knows me quite well.—Wanderer.

If people resolutely do what is right, in time they come to like doing it.—Ruskin.
